

46 AND ALL BEAUTIES.

Cinderella's Ballet, Mr. Godkin and Niotheroy Men Arrive.

Incidentally a Few Diplomats Accompanied Them.

This Was Only a Part of the New York's Passenger List.

There was a mixed company grouped along the rail of the American line steamer New York when she swung around to her dock about 10 o'clock this forenoon after a pleasant run from Southampton.

The most noticeable face which peered over the rail was that of Mary Twiss, who was accompanied by the forty-six beautiful girls who have come over to dance in the ballet of "Cinderella," shortly to be produced here. Bartlett Tripp, United States Minister to Austria, and Henry White, Secretary of the American Legation in London, were near by. Max Judd, United States Consul to Vienna, and Mrs. Judd, were chatting with Chauncey Runyon, son of the Ambassador to Germany. Then there were Charles Chatterton, who has charge of the Abbey house, and Louis, Jr. Mitchell, United States Navy, late executive officer of the Yantic, who has come back to get his promotion.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith, Chief Engineer Van Iderstein, First Assistant Engineer John Smith, Second Assistant Engineer John Smith.

EMIGRANT COMMITS SUICIDE

Schmidt Contemplated Sailing on La Gascogne This Morning.

Instead He Put a Bullet in His Head at the Hotel Gruetli.

John Rudolph Schmidt, thirty-six years of age, a native of St. Gall, Switzerland, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself through the forehead in his room in the Gruetli Hotel, 63 Greenwich street, kept by Martin Ganser & Co.

Schmidt came to the hotel last Sunday night, saying that he had been farming near Chicago, and was going home to his friends. He had a steamer passage ticket on the French liner La Gascogne, which sailed to day at 9:30.

Schmidt had his baggage taken to the steamer pier last night, and left orders to be called early this morning. The porter rapped at Schmidt's door at 6:30, but received no response.

After further rapping the door was forced and Mr. Schmidt found lying dead on the bed with a 3-caliber pistol firmly clamped in his right hand. The body was cold.

Schmidt had on his trousers, but no coat or vest. His shirt was unbuttoned at the throat.

The proprietors of the hotel are unable to assign any reason why Schmidt should have killed himself. He did not drink to excess, taking only a glass of beer at 3:30 every night. Nor did he gamble.

Schmidt was somewhat reticent and made no friends at the hotel, but he seemed cheerful and pleasant enough, nor did he complain of any ailment.

Schmidt left $19 in cash, a gold and silver watch and chain and a few trinkets besides his baggage at the steamer pier. There being enough funds to bury him, the body will not be sent to the Morgue. A permit for its removal to an undertaker has been issued by the coroner.

FUGITIVE ENDS HIS LIFE.
Man Who Shot a Woman Commits Suicide to Avoid Arrest.

INDIANOLA, Ia., April 14.—William Ashford, a George Ashworth hiding in his haymow last night, Ashworth is the man who shot Mrs. Mason on March 26, and has since eluded large searching parties. When found, he ran to his mother's house. The alarm was raised and the neighbors began to follow on his track. His friends tried to persuade him to turn himself in, but he said he would never do so.

Seeing that escape was impossible, he drew a revolver and shot himself in the temple, dying within two hours. His hiding place was in the vicinity of his mother's house. Mrs. Mason still lingers at death's door.

BOWDEN IS DISCHARGED.
Justice Voorhis Satisfied Smith's Death Was Accidental.

Frank W. Bowden, of Brooklyn, who was with Kennedy Smith when the latter was found with a fractured skull in front of 219 East Seventeenth street, a few nights ago, was arraigned in Yorkville Police Court to-day and discharged.

The evidence showed that Bowden and Smith were driven there in a hack and Bowden remained inside the hack while Smith went to call on a friend. The hackman testified Bowden had his friend with him when he left.

Policeman Bowden arrested Bowden. Smith died the following day at Bellevue hospital. Bowden was released on bail and stated in court that they were perfectly friendly that Smith's death was due to an accident.

STRANZ SHOT HIMSELF.
A New York Man Attempts Suicide in Hoboken.

Fabian Stranz, of 157 West Twenty-fifth street, is in St. Mary's Hospital, Hoboken, suffering from a bullet hole in his mouth, self-inflicted. Stranz was found early this morning in the hallway of 203 Madison street, Hoboken. A physician was summoned and the injured man was removed to the hospital. The reason given for his attempted suicide is that he has been out of work and despondent.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The crematorium in New York City, which was destroyed by fire last night, was cremated in her home. The crematorium was destroyed by fire last night, and the crematorium was cremated in her home.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

EMULATING CHICAGO'S COW.

An Allen Street Cat Knocks Over a Lamp and Starts a Blaze.

Other Incipient Conflagrations During Last Night.

Firemen say that the blaze which broke out last night on the fourth floor of the five-story tenement-house, 31-12 Allen street, occupied by Max Lowenthal and his family, was started by a cat upsetting a kerosene lamp.

No one was in the apartment at the time. The cat was killed by the burning oil and its body was found by the firemen. The damage to furniture was not over $100.

A report was current that the fire was of a suspicious character, but it is said there was no basis for the rumor.

March 18, 1931, fire broke out in the same house, when four people were burned to death and four badly hurt.

Fire of unknown origin broke out last night on the first floor of the three-story building, 529 and 532 West Thirty-fifth street, occupied by Charles Ritter as a machinist and wheelwright's shop.

Two alarms were sent in, as on the floor above was stored a valuable stock of silks, owned by the Lyons Silk Weavers' Company. The fire, however, did not spread to the stock.

A slight fire broke out last night in the 3rd floor of the four-story brick building, 104 Third avenue. It was caused by the explosion of a kerosene oil lamp.

At 5:30 A. M. a fire broke out on the third floor of the four-story brick building, 104 Third avenue. It was caused by the explosion of a kerosene oil lamp.

Fire did $500 damage to 10 o'clock this morning in the one-story wooden structure in the rear of 31 Jones street, occupied as a laundry by Felix Schmidt.

TWO MEN SERIOUSLY INJURED.
An Exciting Runaway on Chambers Street This Morning.

An exciting runaway occurred on Chambers street, near West street, at 2:30 o'clock this morning, in which two men were quite seriously injured.

A team of horses attached to a heavy truck, and which were being driven by John Defresno, of 6 Myrtle avenue, Jersey City, took flight at some object dashed towards the North River and ran into the wall of the Knickerbocker Club.

The injured men were removed to the Chambers Street Hospital. The owner of the team was notified.

Powder Explosion Hurts Two Men.
MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., April 14.—Three cases of powder kept in Fred Merck's grocery store, exploded last Wednesday, and George Lange and Milton Brooks were so badly burned that they are not expected to recover. The grocery store was burned. The fire was caused by a cigarette being thrown on the floor.

Two of His Fingers Cut Off.
While feeding a growing machine at Hawley's box factory, 40 Gold street, at 4:30 o'clock this morning Joseph Meurer, eighteen years old, of 151 Central avenue, Brooklyn, got the two middle fingers of his left hand caught in the machinery, which cut them off. The boy was taken to the Chambers Street Hospital in an ambulance.

Steamship Engineer Lost.
BALTIMORE, April 14.—The steamship Alma arrived from Rotterdam yesterday, and reported missing on her last voyage out. Chief Engineer Tom Himmay was reported lost.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

Woman Cremated in Her Home.
Crematorium in New York City.

ANNIE GREY IN COURT AGAIN.

A Schoolmate Says He Was Robbed in Her House.

He Is a Philadelphia Merchant and Heard of Her Hard Luck.

Annie Grey, the proprietress of the house at 102 West Forty-sixth street, is once more under arrest. This is the fourth time she has been in the police courts within the past five months. One of the raids was made by the Central Office detectives, and led to charges being made against Capt. Haughey by the Police Commissioners, who fined him ten days' pay.

For the past ten days the Captain has had a daily inspection made by his wardens, Michael and Dale, to see that she did not resume business. On each of their visits they reported finding everything all right.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock a well-dressed, portly, middle-aged man went to the station-house and reported that he had been robbed of $200 in Annie Grey's house the night before. He described himself as Simon Wallace, a merchant, Philadelphia, stopping at the Hotel Metropole, and said he was formerly a schoolmate of Mrs. Grey when they were children and living at Burlington, N. J.

According to Wallace he had heard of Mrs. Grey's hard luck, and, arriving in the city on Thursday, he had come to pay her a visit. At 9 o'clock that night he went to her house, accompanied by a gentleman friend. He said his old schoolmate was glad to see him and he opened champagne.

Mrs. Grey, after her arrest, told him that she was in the house to prevent him from getting into trouble. He claimed that he had been robbed of $200 during the party. He first accused a girl named Bertha Austin, and then, it is said, charged every one in turn with the robbery.

Detectives Michael and Dale arrested Mrs. Grey, Bertha Austin and two other girls named Nellie Allen and Kate Lane.

This morning Mrs. Grey was arraigned in the Yorkville Police Court on charges of keeping a disorderly house and of harboring a felon. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention. She was committed to the House of Detention.

MRS. EMMA COPELAND.

She Was the "Mysterious" Woman Who Visited Magee.

Has Growing Daughters and Is an Old Friend of His.

It has been discovered that the "mysterious woman" who visited the law offices of William M. Magee and went out to lunch with Managing Clerk Joseph T. Magee at noon of the day when the typewriter, Martha J. Fuller, was shot through the brain was Mrs. Emma Copeland, of 23 Pratt street, Chicago.

Mrs. Copeland formerly lived in Brooklyn, is the wife of a business man, the mother of two grown-up daughters and the family were friends of Magee. Mrs. Copeland returned to Chicago by the Sunday evening train twenty-four hours after the tragedy.

She was seen in cell 68 at the Tombs this morning by an "Evening World" reporter. He smiled in an amused way at the story told about his "mysterious" visitor, only nodding assent at the statement that it was Mrs. Copeland and that she was a woman past middle age.

Mrs. Copeland had no complaint to make against anybody, she said. "I am treated with courtesy here by all. Of course, the police are a little rough, and being charged with an awful crime is not pleasant. But I am philosophical, and the best grace possible. I do not refuse to talk about my case to be discouraged. I have no objection to the counsel, and I must obey my lawyers."

Dr. O'Sullivan, of Magee's counsel, said: "I don't know if Copeland is the name of Magee's caller. All I know is that she was a woman who was purely business one, and had no connection with the events that took place here."

"I will add this, that we don't care a rap for the woman after this. We shall prove affirmatively that Miss Fuller committed suicide and show why she did it."

The story of Mrs. Copeland's visit to Magee's office was told substantially to the "Evening World" by a woman who said she was visiting her old neighbor after an absence in Chicago of a year. While here she happened to see the photographs found in his drawer after the tragedy. They are portraits of her two daughters.

One of these daughters, in an interview with the "Evening World," is quoted as saying that her mother saw Magee's revolver in the drawer when he opened it. She said she was not sure, but she thought it was his.

Charles M. Ward and Miss Batchelder, the actress, "Tan and Wife," were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.

They were married in Boston on July 11, 1932, by a justice of the peace. This was a surprise to his friends in announcing that he has been married for the last two years to Miss Fannie Batchelder, a former member of Ned Harrigan's company.